

Media Advisory:

Budding Young Environmentalists Embark On 59th Annual Tree Bee Competition

November 18, 2011 – Toronto, ON. Think city kids don't have a clue about nature? Watch 100 budding environmentalists from across the Greater Toronto Area 'detrunck' that myth as they show off their tree identification skills.

Thirty-nine teams of students in grades four to six from the Toronto Catholic, and Durham Catholic District School Boards will identify over 30 trees and answer conservation questions. The fun and friendly competition aims to cultivate an appreciation and understanding of the forest ecosystem in youth.

WHO: The Ontario Forestry Association

WHAT: Over 120 young environmentalists will show off their tree identification skills at the 59th Annual Tree Bee Competition.

WHEN: Friday, November 18, 2011 from 7 p.m. to 9:45 p.m.

WHERE: Cardinal Newman High School, 100 Brimley Road South, Toronto, Ontario

- 30 -

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT:

Kristina Quinlan
Ontario Forestry Association
(416) 493-4565 ext. 224

